

I don't understand why the NAB would want to limit XM radio's ability to provide Instant Traffic and Weather. I pay for the service and enjoy being able to turn to my weather update to see what's going on NOW not just at the top of the hour. I also travel on the road alot and need to know what's going on in the cities where I am headed.

If the NAB is afraid of XM's service, maybe they should put on a better product.

Thanks--Michael
